Landrum Tables Newsletter

May 2012

Welcome to Landrum Tables!

Thank you for stopping by my booth at the Farmer's Market! Your interest and support are greatly appreciated. I'm continually creating new table designs and would love to custom build a table or bench to meet your specific needs.

Please let us know what models and innovations you would like to see from our company. We welcome feedback and input. Check out our website to see what's new from our small company. You can also find us on Facebook.

I look forward to hearing from you!

Meet Capers: Artist-Owner-Carpenter

Capers Landrum Cauthen was working as a carpenter refinishing houses after Hurricane Hugo when, he says, "I was sick of seeing old beams being taken to the dump."

Capers was raised with a deep-seated respect for preservation thanks to his late father, Henry F. Cauthen, who worked as an antiques dealer and director of the Historic Preservation Society.

Capers knew that he wanted to get involved in preservation, but wasn't sure where to start until he saw the tragic waste taking place at construction sites. "I started grabbing the wood from job sites or the pieces of wood that were piled at the end of the road on Sunday afternoons..."\(read more\)

Thank you again for your interest in Landrum Tables! If you have questions or wish to place an order, you can email me at landrum.tables@gmail.com.

In your order, please include the desired table/bench type, dimensions and stain/color.
